82. Plaintiff's claims are barred, in whole or in part, by law and/or equity.

COUNTERCLAIMS

1. Defendant-Counterclaim Plaintiff Esports Entertainment Group, Inc. (“Esports”), by its undersigned counsel, for its counterclaims against Plaintiff-Counterclaim Defendant Grant Johnson (“Johnson”) alleges as follows:

The Alleged Employment Agreement

2. Esports repeats and realleges each of the foregoing paragraphs of its Answer with Counterclaims as if fully set forth herein.

3. Johnson served as Chief Executive Officer (CEO) of Esports at all relevant times until his termination in December 2022.

4. In or about September 2020, Johnson and/or his counsel drafted an employment agreement for Esports to employ Johnson as its Chief Executive Officer (CEO) (the “Employment Agreement”).

5. The alleged Employment Agreement is not a valid and binding contract.

6. Assuming the court finds the Employment Agreement is a valid contract, the relevant terms of the Employment Agreement are as follows.

7. Article II of the alleged Employment Agreement describes Johnson’s duties and obligations to Esports. In this regard, Section 2.01(a) provides:

[d]uring the term of employment, [Johnson] will: (i) [p]romote the interests, within the scope of his duties, of the Company ... ; (ii) [s]erve as Chief Executive Officer of the Company; and (iii) “[p]erform the duties and services consistent with the title and function of such office, including without limitation, those set forth in the By-Laws of the Company.”

Id., § 2.01(a).

8. Section 5.02 of the alleged Employment Agreement provides Esports may terminate the agreement on written notice to Johnson where, as unquestionable here:

[u]pon [Johnson's] commission of Cause (as defined herein). The term "Cause" shall mean the following:

- (i) Any willful violation by Executive of any material provision of this Agreement ... causing demonstrable and serious injury to the Company, upon written notice of same by the Company describing in detail the breach asserted and stating that it constitutes notice pursuant to this Section 5.02(b)(i), which breach, if capable of being cured, has not been cured within sixty (60) days after such notice or such longer period of time if Executive proceeds with due diligence not later than ten (10) days after such notice to cure such breach[;] ...
- (iii) Fraud or willful misconduct on the part of the Executive in the performance of his duties as an employee of the Company, or gross negligence on the part of the Executive in the performance of his duties as an employee of the Company causing demonstrable and serious injury to the Company, provided that the Company has given written notice of such breach which notice describes in detail the breach asserted and stating that it constitutes notice pursuant to this Section 5.02(b)(iii), and which breach, if capable of being cured, has not been cured within sixty (60) days after such notice or such long period of time if Executive proceeds with due diligence not later than ten (10) days after such notice to cure such breach; ....

Upon termination for Cause, the Company shall pay Executive his Base and benefits including vacation pay through the date of termination of employment; and Executive shall receive no severance under this Agreement.

Id., § 5.02 (emphasis added).

Johnson Breaches the Alleged Employment Agreement

9. Johnson executed and agreed to the terms of a May 28, 2021 Securities Purchase Agreement between Esports and Alto Opportunity Master Fund, SPC ("Ayrton") ("Securities Agreement") and the related June 2, 2021 Senior Convertible Note between the Esports and Ayrton ("Senior Convertible Note").

10. The Securities Agreement and Senior Convertible Note allowed the Esports to borrow Thirty-Five Million Dollars ($35,000,000) in exchange for, among other things, extending Ayrton the opportunity to convert portions of said debt to equity.

11. Section 3 of the Senior Convertible Note, entitled “Conversion of Note,” provides at 3(d)(ii) that Ayrton could elect to convert portions of the debt subject to stockholder approval.

12. Under Section 4.11(d) of the Securities Agreement, both Johnson and Esports represented that:

Grant Johnson, the Company’s Chief Executive Officer, agrees to vote all of the shares of Common Stock over which Grant Johnson or his Affiliates has voting control in favor of Shareholder Approval until such time as Shareholder Approval has been obtained or no Purchaser holds any Securities, which agreement by Grant Johnson shall not be revocable.

13. Johnson signed the Securities Agreement both in his capacity as Esports’ CEO as well as in his individual capacity with respect to § 4.11(d).

14. After the Securities Agreement and Senior Convertible Note were executed, Esports’ stockholders voted on whether to approve the debt conversion as set forth in § 3(d)(ii) of the Senior Convertible Note.

15. On December 20, 2021, the votes were finalized. The vote to approve the debt conversion failed.

16. Esports determined that Johnson and/or his Affiliates voted against converting the debt, despite Johnson’s personal and professional promise to vote in favor of the transaction pursuant to the Securities Agreement.

17. As such, Johnson breached the Securities Agreement and caused Esports to breach the Securities Agreement.

18. In addition, Johnson caused Esports to default in its payment obligations under the Senior Convertible Note.

19. Johnson negotiated a temporary waiver of this payment default in an Exchange Agreement dated February 22, 2022.

20. After the Exchange Agreement was executed, however, Johnson caused Esports to remain in payment default with Ayrton.

21. On or about March 28, 2022, Ayrton's attorneys sent a letter to Esports' Board of Directors which, among other things, noted Johnson's failure to vote as he had promised.

22. Johnson fraudulently and falsely promised to vote in favor of the debt conversion when he signed the May 28, 2021 Securities Purchase Agreement; or, after May 28, 2021, he engaged in willful misconduct and/or gross negligence when he secretly determined that he and/or his Affiliates would vote against the debt conversion despite Johnson and Esports' expressed irrevocable agreement.

23. In either alleged event in paragraph 22 above, Johnson breached his duties to Esports and the Employment Agreement (assuming it is valid) by engaging in fraud or willful misconduct and by failing to promote the interests of Esports, as set forth in the Employment Agreement.

24. Johnson's breaches were not curable.

AS AND FOR A FIRST COUNTERCLAIM
(Breach of Contract)

25. Esports repeats and realleges each of the foregoing paragraphs of its Answer with Counterclaims as if fully set forth herein.

26. Johnson alleges the Employment Agreement was a valid and enforceable contract between Esports and Johnson.

27. Esports performed its obligations under the alleged Employment Agreement.

28. Johnson breached the Employment Agreement by voting his and/or his Affiliates' shares of Esports stock against the debt conversion transaction.

29. By voting against the debt conversion transaction, Johnson caused Esports to breach the Securities Agreement.

30. By causing Esports to breach the Securities Agreement, Johnson breached the Employment Agreement by acting in his own self-interest and failing “[p]romote the interests” of Esports.

31. In addition, Johnson caused Esports to default in its payment obligations to Ayrton.

32. As a result of Johnson’s misconduct, Esports defaulted on its contractual obligations to Ayrton.

33. Johnson’s breaches and misconduct were not curable.

34. Due to Johnson’s misconduct, Esports was required to pay additional principal to Ayrton.

35. As such, Esports has been damaged by Johnson’s misconduct in an amount to be determined at trial, but currently estimated to be not less than approximately Six Million Dollars ($6,000,000.00).

AS AND FOR A SECOND COUNTERCLAIM
(Breach of Duty of Loyalty and Faithless Servant)

36. Esports repeats and realleges each of the foregoing paragraphs of its Answer with Counterclaims as if fully set forth herein.

37. A fiduciary relationship existed between Johnson and Esports during the course of Johnson’s employment as Esports’s CEO.

38. As Esports’ CEO, Johnson owed Esports a duty of loyalty.

39. Johnson’s employment with Esports mandated a duty of loyalty and/or good faith to act in the best interests of Esports while employed by Esports.

40. Under the faithless servant doctrine, an employee is obligated to be loyal to his employer, is prohibited from acting in any manner inconsistent with his agency or trust, and is at all times bound to exercise the utmost good faith and loyalty in the performance of his duties.

41. Johnson fraudulently and falsely promised, on behalf of himself and on behalf of Esports, that he would vote his personal shares and his Affiliates' shares of Esports stock in favor of the debt conversion transaction; or, Johnson engaged in willful misconduct and/or gross negligence when he secretly determined that he and his Affiliates would vote against debt conversion, despite Johnson's and Esports' promise to Ayrton in the Securities Agreement to vote in favor of debt conversion.

42. In addition, as explained above, Johnson caused Esports to default in its payment obligations to Ayrton.

43. By so doing, Johnson acted adversely to Esports' interests.

44. Accordingly, Johnson breached his duty of loyalty to Esports and was a faithless servant as of when he acted in his own interests to the detriment of Esports with respect to Ayrton and the debt conversion transaction.

45. These violations have caused damage to Esports.

46. Pursuant to the faithless servant doctrine, an employer's damages are measured by the amount of compensation paid to a disloyal employee during the period of disloyalty, and the employer is entitled to the return of all compensation paid during the period of the employee's disloyalty.

47. As such, and by reason of the foregoing, Johnson must account for and disgorge all compensation and remuneration received by him during the periods of time in which he was a faithless servant to Esports, together with interest, fees and costs.

48. As a result, Esports is entitled to an accounting of all compensation Johnson received as of when he acted in his own interests to the detriment of Esports with respect to the debt conversion transaction.

49. As a result of his breach of the duty of loyalty and the faithless servant doctrine, Johnson is not entitled to any future or further compensation from Esports.

50. In addition, Esports has been damaged by Johnson's misconduct in an amount to be determined at trial, but currently estimated to be not less than approximately Six Million Dollars ($6,000,000.00).

RESERVATION OF RIGHTS

51. Defendant reserves the right to amend this Answer and Counterclaims during the course of this action and to assert such additional defenses and/or Counterclaims as may appear and prove applicable during the course of this action.

JURY DEMAND

52. Demand for Trial by Jury is hereby made pursuant to Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 38, on all matters so triable.

WHEREFORE, Esports respectfully requests that judgment be entered as follows:

- (a) dismissing Johnson's First Amended Complaint in its entirety with prejudice;
- (b) granting Esports' First Counterclaim in its entirety and awarding damages to Esports in an amount to be determined at trial, but currently estimated to be not less than approximately Six Million Dollars ($6,000,000.00), plus interest;
- (c) granting Esports' Second Counterclaim in its entirety and awarding to Esports an accounting and disgorgement of Johnson's compensation and remuneration received by him during the periods of time in which he was a faithless servant to Esports, damages to Esports in an amount to be determined at trial, but currently estimated to be not less than approximately Six Million Dollars ($6,000,000.00), plus interest;

(d) granting Esports an award of costs, including but not limited to, reasonable attorneys' fees; and

(e) granting Esports such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.
